The fast increasing sales make the use of "Cocoa" and "Chocolate" almost as general here as in Europe, and households now welcome these beverages as refreshing, palatable, with good tonic properties, for breakfasts, etc. With a desire to satisfy a demand for a superior article, guaranteed by the reputation of a house noted all over the United States for the purity and excellence of its manufactures, the well-known New York confectionery firm of HUYLER'S wish to introduce to the people of St. Louis a COCOA, for breakfast use, and a CHOCOLATE (blue wrapper) for drinking and cooking; and they have only to say that a trial of them means—to use them always. MR. E. C. KERENS ANXIOUSLY LOOKED FOR AT THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

No Change in the St. Louis Post-Office Contest—Matt Reynolds' Friends Hard at Work—The Western Missouri Marshalship—The St. Louis World's Fair Bill in the Senate.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 20.—Anxious inquiries are heard on every side this morning for Col. R. C. Kerens. Up to this hour, 2 o'clock, all efforts to find that genial gentleman have proven unavailing. There are several telegrams awaiting him at the Post-office Department. His intimate friends say that if he had gotten here they would have known of the fact ere this. Many seem to think that the Post-office appointment now awaits the result of Col. Keren's work. Those friends of Col. Schuarte who began to give up hope are again cheerful and believe that after all has been explained Mr. Hyde's mantle will fall to their candidate. They honestly think that the solution of the matter is near at hand, if Col. Kerens comes here for that purpose. On the other hand there are many who still believe Mr. Filley will receive the appointment by reason of the great pressure that has been brought to bear from all parts of the State, and some of those who were opposed to Mr. Filley say they don't care if the "Old Man" does get it. The fact that Gen. Henderson, Secretary Noble and other prominent men are speaking for Matt Reynolds gives him a prominent place in the contest. The inability of the Congressman to agree upon a choice convinces those who are acquainted with the Administration that there will be a surprise when the time arrives.

The St. Louis advocates for the Fair are feeling exceedingly cheerful over what they have determined on as a fair representation of the relative strength in the House of the several cities. They claim that Chicago has 71 votes, St. Louis 70, New York 64, Washington 33, and that there are doubtful 95 Representatives; that when the doubtful ones come to express a choice and there is a break, St. Louis will have the pull. Walker Wear, at headquarters, said this morning that all of those interested were feeling very much encouraged. Col. Samuel Hays will spend the holiday season with his father and mother in Philadelphia. Gov. Fletcher and others leave for the West to-morrow. Hon. John J. O'Neill, and Walker Wear will remain in charge of St. Louis interests.

Mrs. J. K. Worthington, the widow of a gallant soldier, who, as steward in the hospital corps, ran the forts at Vicksburg with his slaves and saved many lives of Northern soldiers who were wounded on May 23, 1863, is an aspirant for the Kirkwood postmastership. Secretary Noble, Gen. Shields and other prominent Missourians are urging the lady's claims. She has a family of seven children. Congressman Kinsey has introduced a Mr. Allen for the position.

Col. Ellis and Ira Alderman, who have been here for several weeks have gone to their Missouri homes convinced that Col. Tracy will get the Western District Marshalship. The Surveyorship of the Port at St. Joseph, Mo., will likely go to Capt. Limbird. This will defeat Col. James Beach, who has been here for some time, expectant. Col. Robt. T. Van Horn was sent for and questioned in the matter by the Secretary of the Treasury and it is stated he is opposed to Col. Beach's appointment.

The admirers of Gen. Shields are more hopeful than ever this morning. They believe that the popular Missourian will succeed to Judge Brewer's vacant seat.

James Broadwell, who was made Resolution Clerk of the House on yesterday, expects to be appointed a reading clerk before the end of the session. The salary of his present position is $2,000 per annum.

The Postal Telegraph Bill.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 20.—A bill introduced by Senator Cullom to-day to establish a limited postal telegraph service, authorizes the Postmaster-General to contract for five years with any existing telegraph company for the use of its lines for the transmission of postal messages between free delivery offices, the Postmaster-General having authority to determine between what points the lines shall run. The messages are to be prepaid with stamps at rates to be fixed by the Postmaster-General, and are to be delivered by the letter-carriers upon the first mail delivery after they are received, and at such other times as the Postmaster-General may direct. Before making a contract with any telegraph company the Postmaster-General shall advertise for proposals. The contract shall require the telegraph company to furnish other wires in case the lines leased shall become disabled through storms or accidents.

FIFTY-FIRST CONGRESS.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec 20. — Mr. Edmunds, in presenting a petition for the extension of the time for making pension applications, remarked that it was evidently one of the printed petitions passed around by persons engaged in getting them up. If it was genuine, as he presumed it was, it was deserving of such consideration as it was entitled to.

A communication was presented from the President of the United States transmitting one from the Secretary of the Interior with a draft of a bill for the reduction of the Round Valley India Reservation in California, and inviting the early and careful consideration of Congress to the subject. THE DUTY ON JUTE.

The St. Louis Millers Will Take Action to Secure Its Repeal.

This morning Frank Barry of Milwaukee, Secretary of the National Millers' Association, arrived in the city and visited a number of the leading millers. The object of his visit was to consult with the local millers in regard to co-operating with the Minneapolis and Milwaukee millers in reference to having the duty on jute removed. Mr. Barry spent an hour on 'Change and the matter was the topic of general discussion among those interested. The consequence was that a meeting of the millers was called for 3 o'clock at which it was decided to take such steps as might be deemed best to secure the repeal of the law levying a duty on jute. This material enters largely into the composition of the bagging used in export, and the duty that must be paid is a serious burden upon the millers. By a complicated and expensive system of rebates it is possible to secure the return of a part of this tax, but the uncertainty and inconveniences attending this are so great that the millers want the entire duty to be dropped.

A GENERAL EXPLOSION IN AN ARTILLERY MAGAZINE AT BAKU.

Four Persons Killed—Serious Collision Between British Steamers Near the Isle of Wight—Editor O'Brien Released From Galway Jail—Dom Pedro Not Wanted in Portugal—Foreign News.

ST. PETERSBURG, December 20.—A shell exploded to-day in the artillery magazine at Baku, causing a general explosion of all the munitions stored there and the destruction of the building. The noise of the exploding shells and rockets sounded like a bombardment. One hundred thousand cartridges were destroyed. Four persons were killed and four injured.

Trouble in Brazil.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—The Times this morning prints the following special cable from Rio De Janeiro:

Already the revolution, by means of which Dom Pedro was dethroned so quietly and without bloodshed, has begun to develop serious trouble and the Republican leaders are finding out that it is not so simple a matter to overturn an empire and establish a settled government in its place, as their easy success first seemed to indicate. To-day mutiny has broken out among the soldiers of this city and bloody scenes of riot are imminent. The Government is taking every means in in its power to suppress the uprising and has made many arrests. Rumors of trouble have been heard for several days and arrests have been made to-day of insurgents. Cable and telegraphic messages have been submitted to careful inspection by Government agents before they have been allowed to be transmitted to the provinces or to foreign countries.

WANT DOM PEDRO TO LEAVE.

LISBON, Dec. 20.—It is reported that the Portuguese Government is anxious for Dom Pedro to leave Portugal. The calmness with which the people of Brazil accepted the overthrow of the empire and the establishment of the republic encourages the Radicals of Lisbon to believe that they will eventually achieve a quiet and bloodless revolution in Portugal.

England.

LONDON, Dec. 20.—A collision occurred to-day south of the Isle of Wight between the British steamers Cleddy, from Odessa December 3, for Antwerp, and Isle of Cyprus, which was bound from Stockton for a European port. The Cleddy was so badly damaged that she sank. Several of her crew reached land in safety, but thirteen others are missing. The Cleddy was an iron brig-rigged screw steamer of 1,398 tons, and was owned in Cardiff. The Isle of Cyprus is of 722 tons register.

Upon the request of Arthur Newton, the solicitor who was arrested on the charge of conspiring to defeat justice in connection with the West End scandal, the court has granted him a copy of the informations upon which the Government bases its charges. A hearing in the case will be held on Monday.

Ireland.

DUBLIN, Dec. 20.—Mr. William O'Brien was released from the Galway Jail to-day where he has been serving a sentence of two months imprisonment for holding a Nationalist meeting which had been proclaimed. Immediately upon his release he addressed a large meeting of his sympathizers and received an enthusiastic reception.

Africa.

LISBON, Dec. 20.—The Portuguese Government is agitating for the holding of an International Congress for the settlement of the questions which have arisen from the dispute between Portugal and Great Britain concerning their respective possessions in Africa, as it prefers to accept European opinion to English dictation.

Germany.

BERLIN, Dec. 20.—The Reichanzeiger says that Emperor William, who is suffering from a severe cold, passed a good night last night. He has no fever. He will leave his bed for a while to-day.

China.

LONDON, Dec. 20.—Advices from Shanghai state that the railway projects in China have been suspended, owing to political intrigues and popular opposition to the construction of the lines.

France.

PARIS, Dec. 20.—Owing to the prevalence of the influenza in the St. Cyr Military College that institution has been closed.

BRUSSELS, Dec. 20.—The strike of the Belgian miners has ended. The men are resuming work.

A MIDNIGHT TRAGEDY.

Max Mantwell, a German Laborer, Hacked to Pieces by a False Friend.

CHICAGO, Ill., December 20.—During last night Max Mantwell, a German laborer was attacked in the basement of his house by an unknown man who literally cut him to pieces, inflicting sixty knife wounds. No explanation of the butchery could be found, but report connected one Bruno Eberling, a friend of the Mantwells, with the affair.

LATER.

At 2 o'clock this morning Bruno Eberling was arrested on suspicion of being the man who hacked Max Mantwell into mince meat in the basement on Pleasant street last night. The Mantwells are Germans, and have lived at their present home about three months. Before this they lived in Upland street. People who were neighbors of theirs at the latter place, say the Mantwells did not live happily together. Eberling boarded with them and it is said that his attention to his landlady was strongly objected to by Mantwell. Eberling frequently accompanied Mrs. Mantwell to the theater, it is said, and visited her in the absence of the husband. Since living at their present abode Eberling has continued his visits, though Mrs. Mantwell says always when her husband was at home. Eberling when arrested protested his innocence and claimed to be able to prove an alibi. He says his acquaintance with the Mantwells is of long standing and that the husband never objected to his attentions to Mrs. Mantwell.

BAD THIRD STREET FIRE

THE GUERNSEY AND SCUDDER BUILDINGS COMPLETELY DESTROYED.

A Number of the Surrounding Buildings More or Less Damaged—The Mining Exchange Wrecked—Losses Foot Up a Total of Over $150,000—An Electric Light Wire Dispute.

FIRE insurance agents have been dreading for several weeks that everything would break loose at once, just as the year draws to an end and spoil what would otherwise be a good season. The beginning of the realization of their fears came this morning when, shortly after midnight, the Guernsey building on Third and Locust was discovered to be on fire, and, though the department was on hand promptly, the flames spread so rapidly that adjoining property was taken in, and an aggregate loss of over $250,000 caused. The building, numbered 321 North Third street, was six stories in height and, though not fire-proof, was the first one of the modern buildings erected in the business section to which it belonged. It was in every way substantial, and its space on every floor was fully occupied.

AN ELECTRIC-LIGHT WIRE

seems to have been the cause of the fire. I was shortly before 12:45 o'clock that Officer Rife, passing the place, saw the flames shoot up the elevator. He immediately turned in an alarm from box 26, but the flames jumped up the elevator so rapidly and spread so generally that the idea of saving anything was hopeless. Combustible material was found every place. There was everything to add to the fury of the flames, but nothing to appease them. In a few minutes the entire building, fronting on Third and Locust streets, was a mass of flames. At 1 o'clock a second alarm was sent in, calling other engines to the scene. The firemen were handicapped by the character of the contents of the building, making the fire so hot, and by the net-work of wires running into the operating-room of the Western Union Telegraph Co. on the opposite side of the street. Then, too, the wind was blowing at the rate of ten miles an hour, and the flames were being fanned and swept across the street, endangering buildings there. But little damage was caused there, however, though the cornices caught fire and some windows and doors were broken in. It was impossible to do anything with the building in which the fire started, however, and there and attention turned to the adjoining property. There was danger in any and every direction, and the department had all it could do. Within a few minutes after the second alarm had been sent in the roof of the building occupied by the St. Louis Hotel, fronting on Fourth street, was seen to be smoking. The guests were alarmed and many left the building, though no damage was done. About 1:25 the north wall of the Guernsey building fell, and a few minutes later the south wall went down. This enabled the firemen to turn their attention to the four-story building to the south, 319, occupied by Kohn & Co., Carroll & Powell, W. P. Robertson & Co., and Gerritzen, Bowman & Co. Back of it is the Mining Stock Exchange, and across a narrow alley-way the large establishment of Woodward & Tiernan. Had the flames once got good hold on this last property there would under the circumstances have been little hope for the entire block. The building No. 319, it could be seen, was doomed. To stop the flames there lines of hose were carried to the roof of the Woodward & Tiernan building to play on it and prevent sparks from catching, and to the roofs of the buildings on the east side of the street to play on the flames in No. 319. An immense cornice hung from the latter by only a few boards, endangering the lives of firemen working below. Finally these supports were burned away and it came down with a crash, several of the people below narrowly escaping it. A few minutes later a part of the south wall of 319 caved in, and the flames swept across the alley against the Woodward building like a battering ram. The walls stood the attack, however, and at 2 o'clock the fire was under control and confined to the northeast quarter of the square, where it originated. Just at the close a blaze was discovered in Parker-Ritter's, on the opposite side of the street, but it was quickly extinguished.

THE EXCITEMENT

during the fire was very great, and it was thought for a time that there would be loss of life. The greatest danger of this was on the opposite side of Locust street, where the buildings are more or less occupied for living purposes. The department had early established its ability to prevent their burning, but it was necessary to play on them considerable, and they were filled to suffocation with smoke. Officer Rife, knowing this, ascended the stairway, and raising the alarm got everybody out of the building except a family, a man and wife and two children, on the third floor. He hammered at their door with his club, but could get no response. Descending to the street just before the floors of the burning building fell in, sending up a fresh volume of smoke, he again went up into the building. The smoke was stifling and pouring in through the broken windows. This time he did not stop to hammer, but putting his weight against the door forced it in. The occupants of the room, all sound asleep, in ignorance of their danger, were hastily awakened and removed from the building.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT

also exerted itself to save property which was in danger, particularly that of Woodward & Tiernan. As a consequence, the stock of that company was damaged but slightly, while the Mining Exchange also escaped without much injury. The damage to Woodward & Tiernan was confined to the top floor. The Salvage Corps got up there as soon as possible, and spread tarpaulins over the stock of material stored there, but smoke and water had been there before, and had done more or less damage. On the other floors no damage whatever was done.

THE GUERNSEY BUILDING

was erected by Chas. F. Hoyle about six years ago, and was the property of his estate. It had a front on Locust and Third streets, though the corner of those streets was occupied by a little old building used as a saloon, the owner of which has refused exorbitant offers to sell and thus get the eyesore out of the way.

The basement of the building was occupied by the Guernsey-Scudder Electric Light Co. This company furnished light and power to stores, printing offices, etc., in different parts of the city, and it is supposed the fire caught from one of its wires.

The Commercial Printing Co. had a valuable stock of goods, printing material and machinery on the first and second floors of the Third street side.

In the third floor was a large bookbinding establishment, that of Fred M. Flammger.

Two floors above were occupied by Dickenson & Haus as a shoe manufactory. They had a large stock and a great deal of expensive machinery.

Gane Bros., a New York establishment, had the Locust street side for their branch, and had in a large stock of goods, embracing all kinds of bookbinders' supplies.

THE OTHER BUILDING.

No. 319 was owned by John A. Scudder. It was four stories in height and was of a substantial character. It was owned by Kohn & Co., stock and bond brokers, who had the basement and who had a large amount of securities in the vault. Carroll & Powell, fire and marine insurance underwriters, occupied the first floor proper. The second floor was occupied by W. P. Robertson & Co., printers, and the third by Gerritzen, Bowman & Co., printers and book-binders.

SEEKING OTHER QUARTERS.

The Mining Exchange quarters were completely wrecked, and the Exchange was moved temporarily to the Chamber of Commerce. Many of the members now advocate securing an exchange hall on Fourth street, while others favor the Chamber of Commerce.

Kohn & Co. found temporary quarters at 212 North third street.

Guernsey & Scudder secured the electric plant at the Exposition Building, with which they will resume their service. They claim that it is in no way possible for the fire to have come from an electric wire, as the plant had been entirely shut down from 6 p. m.

THE BUFFALO ELEVATORS.

Negotiations for Their Purchase by an English Syndicate Resumed.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 20.—Negotiations for the purchase of the grain elevator properties in this city by an English syndicate, which had been lagging, have been resumed. The value of the plant, including the "towers" and "floaters," is estimated at from $7,000,000 to $8,000,000. Options had been secured on nearly all the property, except the principal individual property, the Niagara elevators, worth about $1,500,000, and owned by Mrs. Naomi Van Bokkelen and the heirs of the late Thomas Clark. This they were unwilling to dispose of. The Chicago failure of the Meade-Van Bokkelen Co., which is said to have heavily involved Mrs. Van Bokkelen, raised the hopes of the syndicate agent that she might now be willing to dispose of her interests. The negotiations will be actively pushed.

COUNSELLOR BELL DECIDES A QUESTION ON THE POLICE PAY ORDINANCE.

The Council Need Not Consult the Commissioner—Electric Lighting in a Bad Condition—No More Turkeys at the Work-House—Col. Flad's Street Signs—Municipal Matters.

The Municipal Assembly will meet to-night for the last time before the Christmas holidays, and will have only two or three important measures it can dispose of before meeting again after New Year.

In the Council the police increase bill and wagon tire ordinance will come up. The police bill will be reported from the committee along with an opinion rendered to-day by City Counselor Bell on the subject. It was thought that all measures in regard to increasing the pay of the police needed the recommendation of the Police Board. The question was referred to Mr. Bell by Chairman Nelson of the committee, and Mr. Bell returned the following decision:

Hon. N. O. Nelson, Chairman Committee on Ways and Means:

SIR—I have examined House bill 335, entitled "An ordinance to regulate and fix the salaries of patrolmen and turnkeys of the police force of the city of St. Louis," for the purpose of ascertaining whether the Municipal Assembly have power to adopt the measure without the recommendation of the Board of Police Commissioners.

The present police organization was created by act of the Legislature in 1861. In the original act the pay of the police force was established. In 1863, by an amendatory act, the Legislature again established the pay of the police force. In 1865 another act of the same character was adopted. In 1866 the Legislature authorized the Common Council, now Municipal Assembly, to increase, diminish and regulate the pay of the police upon the recommendation of the Police Board. In 1867 an act was passed giving power to the Police Commissioners to increase or decrease the pay of the force. The next act adopted in 1873 authorized the City Council, now Municipal Assembly, to fix the salaries of the police force, not to exceed $90 per month for a patrolman and $70 per month for a turnkey. This last mentioned act is now in force. No ordinance has been adopted on the subject. The salaries named in House bill 335 are within the limit named in the act of 1873.

The power to pass the bill referred to is contained in said act. The recommendation of the Police Board is not required. Your obedient servant, LEVERETT BELL, City Counselor.

The wagon tire ordinance will probably be passed and a final disposition of the sprinkling bill will be made.

In the House there will be little of importance except the street sprinkling ordinance.

The Electric Light Co.

The ordinance of Charles Sutter, asking for a partial release from his obligations under his contracts and an extension of ninety days' time for the completion of his work, is beyond hope of passage. It is now in the hands of the Council Committee on Public Improvements and cannot be passed unless a special session is held for its benefit, which is not very probable. The bill, it will be remembered, was introduced some time ago and simply asked that the date fixed for the beginning of the city lighting with electricity be extended to March 1 to enable the company to complete the work under its contracts. The contracts specify that if the work is not done by January 1 the contractors shall pay a fine or penalty of $500 a day in each of the two lighting districts, for each day the lighting is not done after the day specified in the contracts. It was to avoid the payment of this penalty that the extension of time was asked. The bill did not go through, however, and now the subject of city lighting is in a very mixed up condition. The city has made no arrangements whatever for having the lighting done, otherwise than by electricity, and the electric lighting contractors cannot possibly get ready in time to do it. The Board of Public Improvements has taken no hand in the matter as it has nothing to work on and no authority at present to make any further arrangements. The Comptroller will not make contracts with the gas companies to do the work unless he has an ordinance to back him up. None of the city officials have any idea of how the city and the lighting contractors will get out of the difficulty and none of the authorities seem inclined to assume the responsibility of taking hold of the thing. It looks very much as if the city would be in darkness on New Year's night unless the gas companies charitably throw in a few days' lighting after January 1 for gaining measure. How the electric light company will get out of paying its $1,000 a day in penalties is not known, and it has been said by some of the members of the Board of Public Improvements that there was a plan afoot for the electric light companies to look after the gas lighting until the electric lights are ready, and then get a rebate on its penalties equal to the amount expended for gas.

Reports of progress on the work are not encouraging, and the company has let down a little since it became certain that the work could not be done in time.

Superintendent of City Lighting Matlack does not seem to think that all is being done that should be done and the Board of Public Improvements says so very plainly.

The whole matter at present is in a very mixed up condition.

The Street Signs.

President Flad is making a number of experiments with a view to getting a street sign which will answer the requirements. There are about four thousand street intersections in the city which must be marked in some way to show the names of the streets. This was easy enough when there were lamp-posts on the corners on which the names could be put, but these will probably go when the electric lights will come in and there will be no way of telling the names of the streets. Col. Flad is trying tin signs, glass signs, wooden boards, and painted or ground glass globes for the lamps, but has not yet decided which if any will answer the purpose.

HE OPENED THE LETTER

And Was Discharged From the Water Department in Consequence.

John Wand, a brother of Tom Wand, was discharged by Water Commissioner Holman this morning for opening letters of the Water Department without authority. The causes leading up to the discharge extend back for a week or two and put Mr. Wand in a very bad light.

Some time ago Mr. Julius H. Gerlich, a reporter for one of the German papers, entered a complaint with the Water Commissioners against a man who claimed to be an inspector for the department and who was making himself very obnoxious in the neighborhood of No. 1405 O'Fallon street, where Mr. Gerlich lives. Mr. Gerlich said that this man had been insulting servant girls and others in the neighborhood, and talking to them in a very ungentlemanly manner. From the descriptions given of the man, Commissioner Holman thought perhaps it might be Wand. Gerlich had no way of identifying the man at the Water Office, but could easily do so if he could be gotten out to Fourteenth and O'Fallon streets. Several consultations were held between Gerlich and the Water Commissioner, and it was finally agreed that Wand should be sent out to Gerlich's house with a note and, if, the man delivering the note was the one who was making all the trouble a remedy would be applied. So this morning Commissioner Holman wrote a note to Gerlich, telling him he could not keep an appointment and fixing a day for another. Supt. Harrington was told to give the letter to Wand and have him deliver it. Wand was handed the letter by Supt. Harrington and started to open it. Harrington told him it was a letter he was to deliver and not read, but Wand nevertheless opened it in spite of the superintendent's instructions to the contrary. The matter was reported to the Commissioner and the man discharged.

Scrofula Humor

"My Daughter's Life Was Saved."

"In regard to my little daughter, whose life was saved, as we believe, by Hood's Sarsaparilla, I would say that before she was 6 months old scrofula sores began to appear on different parts of her body, and in a short time she had seven running sores. Two physicians were called but they gave us no hope. One of them advised the amputation of one of the fingers, to which we refused assent. Our attention was called to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and we began giving it to her. A marked improvement was noticed after she had taken only one bottle, and by a continued use of it her recovery was complete. And she is now, being 7 years old, strong and healthy. The other members of my family have been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I recommend it as an excellent blood purifier." B. C. JONES, Alna, Lincoln County, Me.

Scrofula in the Eyes.

"My daughter suffered terribly with sore eyes, cause by scrofula humor. We were obliged to keep her out of school for two years. We had medical attendance, but one failed to gain relief. At last, knowing that Hood's Sarsaparilla had cured my mother of rheumatism, and believing it must be good for the blood, I concluded to have my daughter try it, and it has entirely cured her." A GRATEFUL JUROR.

HE OFFERS THE COURT A CIGAR FOR BEING EXCUSED FROM SERVICE

Because He Promised to Be Sick for Two Years—A Minor Who Did Not Escape on That Plea—An Attorney Makes a Startling Statement—The Smiths Sued Again—Notes.

MORE than the usual number of incidents occurred in the progress of jury trials this week in the Circuit Court, but one story in particular is going the rounds on a juror who was called to serve in Judge Fisher's court-room. The juror had been summoned, but failed to appear and an attachment was issued for his body. He appeared next morning, and when court opened he was called.

"Have you any excuse to make for your absence?" asked the Judge.

"Your Honor, I was sick in bed—had a spinal trouble and could not get down," he replied.

"You seem all right this morning. I will not fine you for contempt, but you will pay the attachment fees," said the Judge, motioning the juror to his seat.

"Will I have to serve, Your Honor?" asked the juror.

"Oh, yes. You're well now, are you not?"

"No, I'm not, Judge."

"Well, I'll let you off until next Monday, then."

"Oh, but, Your Honor, I'm going to be sick for two years."

"How do you know that?" asked the Court.

"The doctor told me I would not be able to sit in one position for more than a short time in years, and that's why I don't want to be a juror."

"Well, if that is the case," said the Court, smiling, "I will have to let you off."

"Ah, thank you, Judge, thank you. Have a cigar?" fumbling in all his pockets and getting red in the face. "By Jove, haven't got a cigar, Judge, but I'll bring you one."

HE WAS A MINOR.

Last week a young man well known about the Court-house was summoned as a juror and when the judge asked all jurors wishing to be excused to step forward, this young man smilingly advanced.

"What is your excuse?" asked the judge.

"I am a minor," replied the young juror triumphantly.

"When will you be of age?"

"Next Sunday morning."

"Well, call around Monday morning and we will make use of you."

COULDN'T AGREE.

A jury in Court-room No. 3 retired about noon one day this week and no less than three times the foreman sent up word that the jury could not agree. One juror held out. After receiving three of these messages, the judge finally ordered the jury to appear and be discharged. The foreman was asked if the jury could agree on a verdict and he said they could not.

"Yes, we can," said the lone man, who had held out all afternoon.

"Gentlemen, try it once more," said the Court, and the twelve men retired. In half an hour they returned with a verdict compromising with the verdict the single jury man wanted delivered.

STARTLED THE CROWD.

An attorney in a case tried last Tuesday startled a crowded court-room by a strange and unfounded statement. It was shown that his client had served a short term in the penitentiary, and this fact was repeated with great relish by the opposing side, and it seemed to weigh something with the jury. To show that this should not be weighed against his client the attorney said:

They have harped on the fact that the plaintiff in this case served a term in the penitentiary and have rolled it under their tongues as a sweet morsel. What if he did serve a term? What if he did. I could name you a dozen—yes two dozen of the most prominent citizens of this city who at some time in their lives have served terms in penitentiaries."

A Strangely Worded Message.

The Court of Appeals handed down a decision in the case of Warren Igo against the Chicago & Alton Railroad Co. Tuesday morning, which had been appealed from Pike County. Yesterday a gentleman interested in the case telegraphed to know the result and the following message was delivered at the Court of Appeals office which puzzled the clerk for some time to make it out:

LOUISIANA, Mo.—Telegraph result Bank vs. Morgan and I go against the railroad.

Another Suit Against the Smiths.

Mr. Charles P. Chonteau, by Valle Reyburn, his attorney, has filed another suit against the James A. Smith & Sons Ice & Fuel Co. Mr. Chouteau states he indorsed notes for the ice company to the amount of $62,000, for which he was to receive half the profits on the sale of 30,000 tons of ice. Mr. Chouteau claims the defendants sold the ice and kept the proceeds. He sues for $27,500, which he claims would be half the profits on the ice sold.

The First Execution Under the New Law.

The last Legislature passed a law authorizing married women to sue and be sued separately from their husbands. The first execution under this law was made yesterday, when Soloman Herman secured a judgment again Mrs. Mary Fuchs, wife of Ignatz Fuchs, and executed a levy on her millinery store, 1266 South Broadway.

Notes.

Benjamin F. Niese secured judgment by default against Wendell Wagner this morning for $1,186.97.

Judgment by default for $620 was rendered in favor of the Mechanics' Bank against Leopold H. Levy in Judge Withrow's court this morning.

Elizabeth Holt has brought suit against William Holt on the ground of general indignities, and Mary Richardson sues Amos Richardson for a divorce on the grounds of drunkenness and desertion.

The Bambrick Bates Construction Co. entered suit on a mechanic's lien for $686 this morning against George T. Baker, administrator of Robert H. Payne, for work done on a building on Broadway.

The Standard Box Co., with a capital stock of $20,000 all paid up, was incorporated today. John H. Kaiser holds 139 shares, Henry Heiemann 20 shares, Charles Bersch 1 share and Johanna Benos 40 shares.

Mortimer McRoberts secured a judgment for $3,687.60 against the St. Louis Railway Supply Co. in Judge Klein's court this morning for services rendered the company in Chicago and commissions on sales of lanterns.

The will of August Polk was filed in the Probate Court to-day. He leaves his house, lot, store and business at 3121 North Eleventh street to his wife, son and daughter, in equal interest, and names his wife as executor.

GOLD IN ALASKA.

Senators Throw Obstacles in the Way of Outside Capitalists.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—The Times this morning prints a special from Sitka under date of the 19th of December in which occurs the following:

It has been satisfactorily demonstrated for years through private efforts and exploration that gold exists in Southeastern Alaska, and that there is a great probability of its being inexhaustible, but the Government has not sent a single dollar in the way of inquiry into the extent and character of its valuable and important interest. Such a thing could not occur in any other respectable Government in the world. I am credibly informed that several United States Senators have for several years been interested in successful mining enterprises in that territory and found it to their interests to throw every possible obstacle in the way of such inquiry and to obstruct the publication of the facts in regard to the real value of these deposits. A careful Governmental inquiry by competent official mining engineers, would long since have given capitalists satisfactory information upon essential points rendering the mine independent of

who scent that class of prey and fatten, not only upon the too confiding capitalists, but upon the results of the labor and enterprise of the poor prospector. It is not necessary that the Government should exercise any authority of a parental character in the matter. It should simply, by aid of exact information, bring the capital necessary to the development of the mines in contact with the prospector who has nothing to contribute to the joint concern but the naked mine itself. As it now stands both the discoverer of the mine and the capitalist willing to aid this class of men are, in half the instances, swindled by the middle man who undertakes to capitalize and

SELL THE CONCERN.

Many of the so-called unofficial mining experts are as dishonest as it is possible for men to become. Numerous instances have come to light where they have taken a large fee from the mine owner to sell his property to a constituted company and at the same time have received the company's money for the reputed services in honest opinion. Suits are now pending in the courts of Alaska disclosing fraudulent transactions of that kind. Because capitalists or men willing and able to aid in mining enterprises in Alaska have been outrageously swindled in that way, it must not be taken as true that the whole business is a fraud. Far from it, for wherever mining in the territory has been conducted on sound common sense and honest principles, it has met with decided success.

THE EXCHANGE ELECTION.

Hugh Rogers Is a Candidate for President —Other Men in the Field.

There seems to be on the part of certain Exchange members an evident attempt to create the impression that Hugh Rogers is not a presidential candidate for the coming election on 'Change. The men who are spreading or attempting to spread this idea, are friendly to Isaac M. Mason's candidacy and their efforts are bent toward creating a stampede of Mr. Rogers' friends to Mr. Mason. A POST-DISPATCH reporter was to-day requested to state that Mr. Rogers is in the race to stay, and his name will not be withdrawn under any circumstances. Phil Brockman is working diligently, though quietly, for his own candidacy and is determined when he goes into the regular caucus to make a strong showing. His friends are feeling sore over the remarks of a morning paper, which in its allusions to the "black flag" unfurled by Mr. Brockman and the naming of Moses Fraley as one of the vice-presidents on his ticket, they believe is an attempt to injure Mr. Brockman with the element that voted for the Planters' House scheme. Several names have lately been suggested as candidates for the Vice-Presidency, but none have been received with such favor as that of Chas. P. Burr, a leading commission merchant and Southern shipper of this market. Mr. Burr retires this year from the directory, and he is one of the very few retiring officers who does so with popularity unimpaired. Marcus Bernheimer and George Flanagan, however, are very strong candidates for the same position. An "old wheel horse" of the Exchange has lately come into prominence as a candidate for the directory in the person of Sol J. Quinlivan, who is strongly pressed by his friends, and the flour and grain corners are bringing out E. P. Annan for a seat in the board. As a representative of the real estate men, an interest that has never before had one of their number in the board, Thomas S. Noonan has been put forward as a candidate.

America Emancipated.

While S. De Jong, a clerk in the Recorder's office, was running through some dusty volumes and indexes yesterday he saw the entry, "America Emancipated." It aroused his curiosity, and, turning to the page indicated, found that "America" was a negro woman "age 28, five feet one and one-fourth inches, mole under left eye, slightly built," was emancipated by William S. Grimes, October 18, 1860, under the will of his father. America was a washerwoman and was licensed to live in this state "so long as she shall be of good behavior and no longer." The second is signed by S. W. Enger, Recorder of St. Louis County.

Another interesting remembrance of "the cruel slavery days" was found in another volume which reads as follows:

HEADQUARTERS DISTRICT OF ST. LOUIS,
OFFICE OF SUPERINTENDENT OF CONTRABAND,
ST. LOUIS, MO., Sept. 24, 1863.

Archer Alexander, a negro, aged 47 years, 5 feet 8 inches high, black color, whose last master was R. Hickman Pittman of the County of St. Charles, State of Missouri, is hereby declared to be an emancipated slave and a free man by virtue of the proclamation of the President of the United States made 1st January, 1863, under the provisions of the act of Congress of July 17, 1862, and for important services to the United States military forces and "disloyalty of master." By order of BRIG.-GEN. STRONG,

Captain and Judge Advocate of St. Louis District.

UNDERTAKERS SPLIT.

A PROMINENT MEMBER OF THE ORGANIZATION MAKES A DEPARTURE.

Chas. T. Whitsett Punctures the St. Louis Undertakers' Association and Lets Daylight Into It by Withdrawing—He Gives the Reasons for the Action He Has Taken.

All day yesterday the undertakers and livery men had something new to discuss. The cause of the sensation was ascertained to be the resignation of two members—one of whom was Chas. T. Whitsett, who is to furnish the other with goods.

Mr. Whitsett was seen yesterday by a reporter, but he declined to be interviewed, saying he preferred, if anything was said, to say it himself over his own signature.

To-day he furnishes the following:

Night before last at the regular meeting of the St. Louis Livery and Undertaking Association I sent to it the following communication:

"Please find herewith my check for $16.50, the amount of fines with which you have me charged for non-attendance, and accept my resignation from the association.
[Signed.] "CHAS. T. WHITSETT."

THE REASON

is on all sides asked. The answer is, "I am weary of being fought by professedly friendly professional brethren. An instance or two: John A. Smithers, a brother member, about two years ago, preferred charges against me for letting an "outside" undertaker (Mr Bohle) have a five-gallon jug of embalming fluid. It was then discovered that I had never signed the constitution and by-laws of the association, and consequently could not be tried for violating the "boycott" rule. (Nor did I ever sign it.) But I was humiliated by being obliged to go before the association (fifty-two members present), and promise not to do so again, under penalty of suspension; and as Owen Meredith says in "Lucille," "It bit and it rankled." If Mr. Smithers had succeeded in expelling me, I would have been obliged, at that time, to abandon the business in St. Louis, as I could not obtain the necessary supplies.

This was brotherly love No. 1, and was the beginning of what I will spare him further at this time, as also others, with barely one other mention.

Eberle M. Keyes—brothers (?)—were called to Olive street to attend upon the death of the husband of a family in which the wife lay also ill, and the body of the husband was to be shipped to Baltimore when she became able to accompany it.

They removed the body to their office. Next day Hon. S. H. Bundy, United States Pension Examiner for St. Louis (a personal friend of mine), came to me, saying the widow was dissatisfied with the way the body had been handled and that she had sent for him, as a friend and neighbor, to see that the body was taken in the charge of some one he would recommend, and he asked me to go up and see the widow, that she would be expecting me. I declined. Next day Mrs. Bundy came to me with a written order to E. & K. to deliver the body to me. I then sent after the body, but Mr. Keyes would not recognize the order unless Mr. Eberle, who was out, should be consulted. I sent again in the evening and Mr. Eberle declined it unless the sum of $40 was first paid him. I declined the proposition, concluding rather to recommend letting them retain possession. Next day, Saturday, Mr. Bundy called at my office, and I told him rather than pay them $40 for $15 worth of services he should recommend the widow as above. He was unutterably indignant at them but did so recommend her.

Next day, Sunday, Mr. Bundy came to me in church and said the widow had requested him to before another night passed if it cost $400. So he gave me the $40, which I paid and took their receipt and the body.

These are samples only of how my brethren extend to me the hand of fellowship. But they are not all that kind of brethren.

One bitter cold night last winter my assistants were called to the East End residence. Recognizing the name of the deceased as an old and very prominent citizen, they drove out to my residence for me to accompany them to the house of mourning. On our arrival we found the messenger had been sent to summon Mr. Lynch, and by error ordered us out. The family said, however, that they knew me by reputation, and that it was perfectly satisfactory to them I should remain, taking charge of the body and the funeral arrangements as if no error had occurred.

I replied that I was the third generation of my family in the undertaking business (both my father and his father having followed it), until I was now 36 years of age and could not afford to take any such advantage of any one in their absence, much less one for whom I had so high a regard as Mr. Lynch. I therefore respectfully declined, and sent one of my assistants to summon Mr. Lynch to their residence.

It was some days afterward when Mr. Lynch learned of the incident, some member of the family having told him of it.

That gentlemanly professional did not lose an hour to call in my office, take me by the hand and thank me, saying that "our former friendship for several years would be still warmer hereafter."

I have given

in all these instances that he who runs may read. But now the fight is redoubled it seems, for it was not yet 8 o'clock this morning when the wholesale undertakers' supply dealers were notified not to sell me one dollar's worth of goods; and the local manufacturers have already told me they were forced to obey the order.

This result I anticipated and I have been a whole year preparing for it. I own my own hearses and have made arrangements for all the goods I want by purchasing an interest in a coffin factory in a neighboring State. If they claim I cannot get goods I will forfeit $100 to any charity if I have not now and do not continue to keep the finest stock of goods kept by any one in my line in St. Louis, and, thanks to the circumstances, I am now at liberty to furnish anything used in my business without combination dictation as to what I shall charge.

I do not boast of so large a business as some, but "all things come to him who deserving waits."

A Lot of Stolen Mufflers Recovered by the Police To-Day.

New criminal warrants issued this morning charge Dan Bauer with petit larceny in stealing a lot of silk mufflers from Jos. Emanuel, Geo. Begley, Willie Walsh and Edward Cundiff; same in stealing a horse blanket and a whip from O. O. Ambs; Fred Heidman, same in stealing a ton of wire from the Western Union Telegraph Co.; Jack Walsh, Thomas Haley and James Higgins, same in stealing a clock from Barr; Sam Carter, fraud in disposing of a quantity of cement by false representations.

Two warrants for petit larceny were sworn out this morning against Daniel Bauer. The defendant now occupies a cell in the city jail. For the year and a half which he has spent away from his home in Germany, he has lived at the corner of Ninth and Carroll streets in this city. During the holiday trade he secured a position as salesman at the establishment of Jos. Emanuel, 1204 South Broadway. He had charge of the muffler department. A week ago it was noticed that the mufflers were slowly disappearing. Yesterday afternoon Officers Schmidz and Bickerton of the Second District searched Bauer's room and found over $20 worth of Mr. Emanuel's property. A valise containing a quantity of clothing was also discovered and afterwards identified by a gentleman living at 1790 South Broadway, as one stolen from him within the past two weeks. Bauer is a young and unmarried man. He admits his guilt.

GRAIN RECEIVERS WILL MAKE NO COMPACT WITH BURKS.

A Lesson That the Chief Grain Inspector Taught the Merchants' Exchange That Will Not Be Soon Forgotten—The Railroad Commissioners Will Proceed Against the Exchange.

Chairman W. G. Downing of the State Board of Railroad and Warehouse Commissioners left the city this morning. Yesterday he had a long conference with President Charles A. Cox of the Merchants' Exchange, as well as with a number of the leading grain receivers and elevator men. He said that he wished to avoid any difficulty with the Exchange, but was obliged to obey the mandates of the law. He will return on Monday for further consultation.

W. G. DOWNING'S PLANS.

In reply to a question concerning the purport of his conference with Mr. Downing, President Cox said: "Mr. Downing told me that he was very sorry that affairs were in their present condition. He did not wish, he said, to antagonize the Merchants' Exchange in any manner, shape or form, or to impede or hamper the members in the transaction of their business. But he was an officer of the law, and as such was obliged to obey it. In his opinion the action of the Merchants' Exchange in declaring grain inspection on the East side deliverable on contracts was a clear violation of the State inspection law, and a continuance in this course would subject the Exchange to a prosecution for violation of its charter. The elevators in East St. Louis were a part of the St. Louis system and could not, according to his view of the matter, avoid their legal duties on the plea that they were in another State. The Union Elevator Co. was a Missouri corporation and must obey the laws of Missouri. I did not agree with his views, but am rather inclined to think that some compromise measure by which a uniform inspection could be secured would be advisable."

NO COMPROMISE.

When the subject of a compromise was mentioned on the floor it became evident that President Cox would find few supporters. The opinion expressed by Downing that the Merchants' Exchange was violating its charter by admitting East St. Louis grain as deliverable on contract was said to be absurd, while when the question of any compromise by which Burks could obtain control of East Side inspection was suggested, scarcely a man could be found who would consider it for a moment. A leading receiver varied the sentiment of the floor, when he said that after their past experience they could put absolutely no faith in any agreement to which Burks was a party.

A compromise had been agreed upon just before Burks took charge of the State Inspector's office, by which he was to have charge of East side inspection on condition that two of the old force should be appointed to insure competent work. Burks had agreed to this and had named the man.

A BREACH OF FAITH.

After the others had resigned Burks suddenly informed the Board of Directors that the men whom he had named declined to serve, but that he would appoint others in their places who in his opinion would be competent. As something was known of what the chief expert considered as constituting competency, the members of the Board of Directors were suspicious, and when they learned that the refusal of the two old inspectors to serve was occasioned by the fact that Burks had promised them $2,000 a year, and when the resignations had been handed in, told them that he would give them but $1,500, it was resolved to have nothing more to do with him, except officially. What had been done once might be done again, and the feeling against entering into any compact whatever with Burks was very strong.

'CHANGE CHAT.

What the Traders Are Doing—Disciplining a Member—Personal Notes.

Hon. R. H. Davis, a prominent grain shipper of Carrollton, Ill., and a member of the Illinois State Legislature, and Henry C. Yaeger, now engaged in the milling business at Carlinville, Ill., were on 'Change to-day.

Henry S. Potter and Dick Tunstall, the organizers of the new Hay Exchange and Warehouse, expect to have the building ready and all connecting railroad tracks laid by February 1, weather permitting.

For disturbing the peace and dignity of the Exchange in assaulting a fellow member on the floor, C. J. Schoenhard, Jr., was to-day reported to the Board of Directors by R. M. Hubbard, chairman of the Floor Committee. The offense Mr. Schoenhard is charged with was committed last Friday, he striking Wm. J. Ray after the two had been engaged in a dispute over some matter. Both are in the feed store business.

Several months ago A. Junod, a grain shipper of Troy, Ill., met with an almost fatal accident. He was run down by an engine while crossing the railroad track and one leg cut off. At the time of the accident he displayed wonderful nerve, calling for a knife and severing the flesh that held the leg where the wheels had passed over it. For a long time afterwards Mr. Junod's life hung in the balance, as gangrene set in, and several surgical operations were necessary to save him. The Exchange members, to whom Mr. Junod was well known—he was on the floor at least once a week—expected never to see him again, but to-day he showed up on 'Change as natural as ever, barring the absence of half a leg. He received a warm welcome.

The "curb" traders who deal principally in "puts" and "calls," after having been run out of a bucket shop by the appearance therein of pool-selling on horse races, rented a room in the Exchange building where they could meet after the regular board closed. Not satisfied with this, however, they today petitioned the Exchange directors for permission to meet in the hall up stairs, after hours. Several protests have already been made against granting any such permission, and the opinion of the board's attorney will be taken in the matter. "Puts" and "calls" are not recognized as legal by the Exchange, and trading in them on the floor is prohibited.

ANOTHER ELEVATOR OPTION.

It Is Said to Have Been Secured by a Railroad Syndicate.

There was a very well defined rumor on the street this afternoon that an option was being arranged for or had been secured by a syndicate of railroad people, in which the Erie interests are prominent. The United elevator officers were sought for information, but they knew nothing of it, saying it was, if anything, an affair of the stockholders, of which they would not have any official knowledge. It was claimed, however, that they did know what was on foot, but after the disastrous results following the giving of the English option, they did not desire the public to know anything of it unless it goes through. The statement is that an Erie representative has been negotiating for the option, agreeing to make a payment of $50,000 to $75,000 on it at about $75 a share. This is a drop of $25 a share on the English option, but the latter was given without any consideration. Whether anything will come out of this is uncertain, as no details can be had, but its effect was sufficient to cause a very general inquiry for the stock at $54, with $55 bid. It sold last night at $53, so that the advance is considerable. A couple of days ago it sold at $52.

A Change of Name With a Story.

A pretty story is told in a petition filed this morning in the Circuit Court by EZRA Calhoun Drillinger for a change of name to Charles Drill. Mr. Drill states he is 29 years of age, was born in Illinois, but has been a citizen of the State of Missouri for nine years. He gives several reasons for the request which are unusual as most petitions for change of name are made by foreigners who have unpronouncible names or titles which cause the owner to be ridiculed among his American friends. Drillinger says between the years of 1875 to 1880, while a boy working for his living at various occupations, his father made a practice of drawing his wages and refused to share the money with him, to clothe him or give him any money to support himself, but squandered it in riotous living. In the fall of 1880, being tired of such injustice, he ran away from home and came to St. Louis. To prevent his father tracing him he adopted the name of Charles Drill, dropping the "inger" of the family name. He has always borne that name and is known by no other among his acquaintances and friends. He would perhaps have kept the name without legal sanction all his life but he is about to marry an estimable young lady in this city and wishes to legalize the alias under which he has passed the last nine years of his life before he enters the holy state of matrimony. Judge Withrow, to whom the petition was submitted, granted the change of name immediately.

THE Court of Criminal Correction put in another good day's work for the lottery rascals yesterday.

UNDER the influence of the Russian influenza "Ah Choo" will probably take the place of "Ah, There" as a popular form of greeting among "the boys."

THE sentiment which actuates Chief Grain Inspector BURKS and the State Railroad Commissioners seems to be, "collect the fees or kill the grain trade of Missouri."

THERE is one way in which the members of the Merchants' Exchange can escape persecution at the hands of the present administration, and that is by starting a lottery.

IT is gratifying to note that the gamblers' attorneys have come to the conclusion that the police have rights and privileges which even gamblers are bound to respect.

IF SILCOTT had robbed the members of the Ohio Legislature instead of the members of Congress the reason for Senator PAYNE'S recommendation of him for his place would be clear.

THE surrender by the local gamblers of the claim that the police have no right to seize and hold property which is the evidence of crime is a substantial victory for the law. The authorities have clearer sailing in the arrest and prosecution of gamblers now.

THE intimation that Germany and perhaps other European monarchies will interest themselves in the Brazilian revolution offers a prospect that BLAINE'S "aggressive American policy" may be taken out of its high pigeon-hole in the State Department. It must need a thorough dusting and renovation by this time, in order to be presentable.

THE latest poll of Congress showed that St. Louis and Chicago are in the lead for the World's Fair. The vote of St. Louis is placed at 70, only one behind Chicago. This is over double the vote which the New York WORLD'S first poll gave this city, and it shows that the energy injected into the campaign through the exposure of the true situation by the POST-DISPATCH has accomplished splendid results. There are still 93 unpledged votes and the fight must yet be decided. St. Louis stock is booming.

THE resolution introduced in the House of Delegates providing for an investigation of the gas, and electric light companies will do no harm and may accomplish good. A thorough investigation will at least demonstrate the truth or falsity of the popular impression that the same men control all the lighting enterprises of the city through a monopolistic combination. The Municipal Assembly will thus be enabled to act in matters relating to city illumination with a knowledge of the true situation.

THE CONTAGION OF BOSSISM.

The contagious quality of the spirit of personal bossism in politics is shown in an impressive manner by the scandalous conduct of the State Railroad Commissioners under the new grain inspection law.

No less offensive term than scandalous can be used to describe the actions of these officials. Instead of treating the power conferred upon them, affecting important and wide-spread interests, as a public trust to be exercised solely for the good of the people, they have regarded it as a personal prerogative to be used in furtherance of their own personal wishes and political ambitions.

They first attempted to enforce the law two months in advance of the proper time in order that the collection of fees under it might begin at the earliest moment. They next selected for the chief inspector a chronic office-seeker and machine politician without the qualifications for the office expressly stated as necessary in the law. They persisted in putting him in the office despite the protests of grain dealers and grain producers. Having selected this political tool they used him to fill the office with a horde of relatives and dependents of themselves and their friends, totally unfit for the duties to be performed. In short, they have turned this important business office into a personal and partisan machine.

Because the grain-dealers, whose business is threatened with irreparable injury by this outrageous course of the commissioners, have attempted to defend their interests, they are trying to pervert the law and wrest the legal machinery of the State to their purposes, even at the risk of destroying the grain trade of Missouri, in order to gain their political ends.

But their acts are mere imitations of the acts of higher officials. What can be expected of railroad commissioners who have the example of a Governor who keeps the burden of a high-salaried, useless office on the people to reward a political adherent? who uses the Police Board of the metropolis of the State as his personal machine at the sacrifice of the enforcement of the law? and who uses the whole appointive power and influence of his office to gain his ambitious aims?

The little political bosses are made by the big political bosses. The destructive fever of bossism, if it is not checked, spreads through the whole party.

THROUGH the interview with Mrs. EDOM the POST-DISPATCH obtained the only light which is available as to the view of the late HENRY SHAW with respect to the position of the Mayor in the Board of Trustees named to execute his will. Mr. SHAW, however, was a careful man and whatever his intention may have been at any period he did not put it in writing or embody it in the instrument which set forth his purposes. That instrument must be the final guide of the board as to the testator's wishes. The will of the majority of the trustees, therefore, aside from legal ruling, must govern the action of the board. Every member of it should strive for the harmonious execution of the beneficent plans of Mr. SHAW.

THE secrecy surrounding the proceedings of the Shaw trustees and the bolts and bars with which they keep the vulgar public away from their meetings suggest that they might very properly adopt for their seal the device from "Ivanhoe" of "the fetter-lock and shackle-bolt, azure," and for their motto the more modern suggestion of VANDERBILT, "the public be damned."

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM.

The Coal Hawkers Again.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Having stirred up the weighers of coal, etc., for illegally selling on bogus tickets, it would would be a charity to the poor for some one to look after unlicensed peddlers going around and selling out of wagons with baskets purporting to hold a bushel, when in reality there is but three pecks. They are also cheating the city by not having peddlers' license.

Dec. 18, 1889. A SUBSCRIBER.

Why They Regret.

From the New York Times.

If the story published by a St. Louis paper be true, that $25,000 was spent corruptly in the Missouri Senate in behalf of dressed-beef interests last winter to procure the defeat of the bill providing that all beef sold in the State must be taken from animals that had been inspected in the State while alive, those who contributed the money must now regret their action; not necessarily because it was sinful and unlawful—for it is not probable that they will take this phase of the matter into account—but because the money was thrown away. If the bill had become a law, it would have been killed before this time by the Missouri courts. In every State where a similar bill was enacted the courts have since thrown out the statute.

A DISTINGUISHED VISITOR.

Charles Dudley Warner Arrives and Will Read To-Night.

This morning Charles Dudley Warner of Hartford, Conn., arrived in the city and registered at the Southern. Mr. Warner was somewhat fatigued by his trip and at once retired to room 60, which had been reserved for him by the officers of the New England Society. In answer to a question Mr. Warner said: "The object of my visit to this city is twofold. To-night I give a reading at Memorial Hall, by request, for the benefit of the South Side Day Nursery. I left the programme to the managers and they have requested me to read selections from my own works. To-morrow evening I have been invited to attend the annual banquet of the New England Society and to deliver an address. I am not a stranger in St. Louis, having visited the city last year, and been greatly impressed by it." Mr. Warner will not leave the city before Sunday night, and may remain for several days.

A WITNESS' HOT SHOT.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY REYNOLDS DISTRESSED BY A CAMPAIGN GHOST.

Eugene Hansman, a Witness for Peter R. Morrissey, Revives a Story of J. G. Butler's Mayoralty Canvass—His Revelations Unwelcome by the Government—Adam Neibert Testifies Under Protest.

TESTIMONY for the defense was begun in the trial of Peter R. Morrissey in the United States District Court for false swearing, aiding and abetting persons to secure naturalization certificates to which they were not entitled, this morning. Among the witnesses called for the defense was Eugene Hansman, who at the last city election was a candidate for the House of Delegates from the Twenty-sixth Ward. His evidence was not very valuable, but he made it interesting while District Attorney Reynolds was cross-examining him.

"How long have you known Morrissey?" Mr. Reynolds asked.

"Ever since you sent a man to me about a bill, who represented himself to be Morrissey."

"I sent a man to you—what do you mean? Let's have the straight of that."

"I'll give you the straight of it."

"Who was this man you say I sent to you?"

"Mr. Ehlert."

"That was when I was trying to learn what you would testify to."

"I don't know. That wasn't what Ehlert talked about."

"Didn't you make an affidavit in the Lehman case?"

"Yes."

"Was it before you made the affidavit?"

"No, afterward."

EHLERT'S MISSION.

"What was it Ehlert talked about?"

"A bill for $53 which you owed since the Butler campaign for carriages."

"A bill I owed?"

"Yes, a bill you owed."

"This is a strange development. You say Ehlert represented himself to be Morrissey?"

"Yes."

"You knew he was not Morrissey?"

"I found out."

"Why then did you say that you knew Morrissey from the time I sent Ehlert to you?"

"Because I found out immediately who Morrissey was?"

"Don't you know this is a lie?"

"No, I don't, and you don't either."

THE ATTORNEY WAS RED

in the face. The witness had a "now-I've-fixed-you" look, and the jury was smiling broadly.

Judge Thayer's eyes were twinkling but his broad hand concealed the muscles about his mouth.

"You're an intimate friend of Morrissey's are you not?" Mr. Reynolds asked.

"No sir. I believe the first I ever spoke to him was last Monday morning."

"Haven't you been sitting with him all through this trial."

"I have been sitting near him."

Hansman left the stand without being further attacked.

HIS EXPLANATION OF THE BILL

referred to was made off the stand. He said: "During the campaign I was employed to work for the Republicans in the Twenty-sixth Ward. I did a great deal up there in the interest of Butler. On election day Reynolds met me on the street and said: 'For God's sake, Hansman, get out the carriages. M— is drunk and there are no carriages.'

"I went down to August Kron's stable and got out the carriages. Reynolds sent up the banners for them. After the election he refused to pay the bill, saying he had no more money for election expenses. Afterward this man Ehlert came to the store where I was employed and talked to me about the bill. believed it had been paid and told him so. When he was going away I asked him his name. He said it was 'Pete Morrissey.' I learned later from Kron's son-in-law that the bill has never been paid."

THE NEXT WITNESS

was Adam Neibert, the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Delegates, Neibert, before going into the witness chair, said to Sudge Thayer: "I object to testifying here. I have been indicted and do not want to criminate myself."

Judge Thayer said he would protect him.

NEIBERT TESTIFIED

as to the crowding in the Court of Criminal Correction and the Criminal Court. His forgetter was in working order and was in commission, until Judge Thayer told him his testimony could not be used against him. He then told of the wholesale naturalizations in the two criminal Courts, applicants and witnesses sworn and examined in great batches. His stay on the stand was brief.

From seven counts in two indictments the prosecution has been left with only two counts to stand on. Their evidence in support of these is slight, and a conviction on them would greatly surprise the District Attorney and his assistants.

CAN'T SHIP LIVE POULTRY.

A Shortage in Coops Produced by the Freight-Car Famine.

The poultry men are not a little embarrassed by the conditions that prevail on the railroads in regard to freight-car service, and the freight famine is troubling them to no small extent. The trouble is not that they cannot bring the goods to the city, but that they cannot send back their coops to the farmers for a new consignment. It has been the practice to send as many coops to the consigners as were required, empty them and return them for a fresh shipment. In this way the same crops and crates were used over and over again, the railroad companies taking them out on their empty cars and delivering them wherever required. This year, however, the demand for cars is so great that the railroad companies have nearly universally refused to fill their cars with empty boxes, as they were required at many points for the receipt of grain and other freight, and the demand was so great in proportion to the supply that it was said to be impossible to delay the empties for the purpose of delivering crops. The consequence is that the dealers have an immense stock of coops on hand, in many cases seriously encroaching upon the floor rooms in their stores, while the farmers have nothing in which to send their geese, ducks and chickens to market. The trouble is felt principally in the live fowl trade, as dressed birds can be shipped in almost anything that will hold them, although from letters received from country shippers it appears that unless there are some means devised of relieving the famine of the farmers from the superfluity of the consigners, the receptacle problem in all its branches will become a very serious one. Already nearly every empty box and barrel has been shipped, and it is difficult to provide substitutes. This condition of affairs is peculiarly unfortunate at the present time, as the unusual mildness of the weather has greatly discouraged the shipment of dressed poultry and encouraged that of live fowls.

HE MAY DIE.

Maurice Murphy's Skull Was Fractured by a Blow.

About 9 o'clock last evening Maurice Murphy, a prisoner at the Third District Police Station, was removed to the City Hospital. On Wednesday afternoon Murphy entered the stables of the St. Louis Transfer Co., Second and Carr streets, and began to quarrel with one of the employes. The forman, Ben Humphreys, ordered him out, but Murphy refused to go. It is alleged the intruder made a move as if to draw a weapon when Humphreys struck him over the head with a heavy club, felling him. The scalp wound inflicted was dressed by Dr. Cadwallader. Yesterday afternoon, however, Murphy's head began to swell in an alarming manner, and the man was soon delirious with the pain. It is now thought that his skull is fractured. Humphreys has not yet been placed under arrest.

A Remarkable Gas Bill.

Another victim of the gas meter has appeared in the person of John Q. Reed of 1621 Mississippi avenue. Mr. Reed's bill for September was $2.85, for October $3, while in November it jumped to $6.15. He has the same number of burners and the same family as he had during the first two months and cannot understand why his bill should have more than doubled.

SEND THEM IN NOW.

Get Your Guesses on File in the World's Fair Contest.

If you want to be among the thousands of guessers who will have sent in their blanks in the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH World's Fair guessing contest by next Sunday you have only to-day and to-morrow to get in. This proposition is very self-evident, but it may serve to remind you that an early guess is a matter of importance, and that thousands of persons have shown that they are aware of the fact by getting in their filled blanks very early. On next Sunday the guessing match will be two weeks old, and according to present indications, at least 3,000 guesses will be on file. These guesses are from all parts of the country, and they are the efforts of the friends of the four competing cities— St. Louis, New York, Chicago and Washington. Of course, it is difficult at present to make a precise and accurate guess. But the guessers so far have not waited for this. They have taken advantage of the fact that the earliest guess will rake in the prize, to file filled up blanks which will make up in date of receipt what they may lack in accuracy. An early guess may not be accurate enough to win the first prize. But, remember that there are four prizes, and your effort has a chance for all of these. Any of the prizes are worth contending for, especially as the work the contestant is required to do is of the most trivial character. The prizes are named below. All you have to do is to cut out the blanks from the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH, fill them up as directed and mail or send them at once to this office. If you want any information about the contest send for the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH. Whenever you need additional blanks, send for the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH and clip them out of its pages. That is the only way in which the blanks can be secured. If the conditions as published are not perfectly clear to you, write to the POST-DISPATCH and your questions will be answered at once.

THE FOUR PRIZES.

1. To the person first naming the successful city in the contest for the World's Fair and giving the final and deciding vote that city will receive in the Senate and in the House of Representatives, separately..... $50
2. To the person first naming the city and coming nearest to the final vote for that city in the Senate and in the House..... $25
3. To the person first naming the city and coming next nearest to the final vote..... $15
4. To the person first naming the city and coming next nearest to the final vote..... $10

For full particulars, and for the blanks upon which the guesses must be sent in, see the last SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH and every issue of the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH until the contest is over.

The Latest Canvass of the House.

From To-Day's Globe-Democrat.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 19.—At the St. Louis World's Fair headquarters to-night the canvass of the House was reported. When all of the returns were in and tabulated it was found that the totals were as follows: For St. Louis, 70; for Chicago, 71; for New York, 64; for Washington, 33; still doubtful, 93; necessary for a choice, 166. The St. Louis workers are a good deal encouraged by the showing. They say the canvass has been made with great care, and that members have been put down for a city only when their sentiments are positively known. The relations between the St. Louisans and the New Yorkers are most friendly. While the figures do not mean that St. Louis has a sure thing of the World's Fair location, they are interpreted as knocking out Chicago.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS IN COMMERCIAL AND RESIDENCE PROPERTY.

Improvements Contemplated in the Business Center and Out Along the Line of the 'Frisco—Some East Side Deals—Meeting of Directors of the Mercantile Club This Afternoon.

Members of the Mercantile Club are considerably enthused upon a proposition to erect a magnificent nine-story building especially designed for their use. Plans for the proposed structure are now on exhibition at the club rooms, and a great deal of interest is being taken in them.

The design in general outlines contemplates a bold structure nine stories high. It is to be constructed thoroughly fire-proof, with a high basement after the style of many of the prominent public buildings in the East and the interior arrangements provides all that is convenient, novel and luxurious in the leading club-houses of the country. The architect in working up the drawings has apparently struck the popular idea, for they meet with general approbation. A site for the structure will occupy nearly a quarter of a block and it will take at least $300,000 to build it.

It is intended that the five upper floors shall be occupied exclusively by the club. Below that there will be office apartments, the corner on the first floor having been arranged for a banking house. A corner to build upon has not yet been secured, but an enterprising real estate agent who has given the matter a good deal of attention has a site in view that will answer admirably for the purpose, and the probabilities are that he has an option to purchase or lease the property. This proposition to build a new club-house is something new. It was only made public a few days since by the presentation of the plans in such a state of perfection that it was very evident some one had been giving the matter considerable study and had been working upon it for some time past. A few days since it was announced that the club had decided to lease the new Phipps-Wallace building on the east side of Eighth street, opposite the Custom-house, and while there doubtless were some grounds for that rumor, it is nevertheless a fact that the club has not leased that, or any other than the place it now occupies up to date. A great many of the members want to own their own home and, as the club is abundantly able to do so, it is more than likely that the present quarters will be retained until the new Mercantile Club building is erected.

A DEPOT SITE LOCATED.

Mr. Samuel T. Rathell and other members of the committee especially appointed for the purpose went out the 'Frisco to Lindenwood, the new residence subdivision on the western border of the city, and located the site upon which it is proposed to erect one of the prettiest little passenger depots to be found anywhere around St. Louis. The structure, designed by Mr. J. B. Legg, is to be built of broken ashlar limestone, which will be taken from the Lindenwood quarries. It is estimated that the depot will cost nearly $3,000 and when completed it will add materially to the picturesque surroundings where a good deal of money is being expended on improvements with a bright prospect of the place becoming a very pleasant and popular suburban village. A great many lots have already been sold in the tract and some of the purchasers have built there, and in the spring there will be a good deal of building going on, for the Lindenwood Investment Co. proposes to erect a dozen or more dwellings on the tract, costing from $1,500 to $3,000.

ON MADISON STREET.

Mr. M. E. Sullivan has purchased, through Fisher & Co., a 25x130 foot lot located on the north side of Madison street, where all public improvements are made, between Laflin well and Glasgow avenues, at $25 a foot.

BOUGHT TO BUILD ON.

McCasland & Guignon report the sale of lots one to six inclusive, block 10 of Clearmont addition, East St. Louis, at $6 a foot cash to Michael Doryer.

IN HIS OLD PLACE.

John J. Dockery has again identified himself with Thos. F. Farrelly, in the real estate business.

Mr. C. H. Bailey sold a piece of ground fronting 585 feet on the corner of Wilson avenue and Edwards street, in the southwestern portion of the extended city limits, about a half mile distant from the Oak Hill & Carondelet Railway, for $1,755. The property, owned by Mrs. Clara Rosenblatt, was sold to Mr. A. F. Fahy, who bought on speculation.

LEWIS—ROUBIDOUX.

A quiet wedding was celebrated yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents, 3750 Finney avenue. The contracting parties were Miss May Tilden Roubidoux, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Roubidoux, and Wm. H. Lewis of St. Joseph. Owing to the dangerous illness of the bride's father the ceremony was celebrated only in the presence of the immediate relatives of the family and it was for this reason also that the handsome bridal robe made for the occasion was laid aside by the bride, who wore instead her traveling gown. The house had, however, been decorated with roses. The corridors and drawing rooms were banked with roses and myrtle, it was under a lovers' knot of La France roses that the bridal pair stood during the ceremony to receive the nuptail blessing from Father Bond of the Redemptorist order. The bride wore a gown of cafe au lait which fitted her slight form perfectly. She wore a little toque to correspond and a pendant of diamonds, the gift of the groom. In her hand she carried a cluster of hyacinths. Her only attendant was her little sister, Nannie, a child of 3 years, whose slip was of cream white cashmere, elaborately embroidered in white.

Mrs. C. E. Roubidoux, the bride's mother, wore black cnantilly lace over black satin; diamond ornaments.

Mrs. J. A. Corby, aunt of the bride, wore an exquisite costume of duchess lace with diamonds.

Miss Lulu Corby, black thread lace over a slip of moire; necklace of gold.

Miss Edith Corby, absinthe-green combined with corresponding tint.

Miss Jennie Corby, black velvet and plaid.

After the wedding supper the happy couple held an informal reception prior to their departure last night for St. Joseph.

COMING TO AMERICA.

JACK HICKEY, THE IRISH MIDDLE-WEIGHT CHAMPION, TO VISIT THIS COUNTRY.

Jake Kilrain's Petition to Gov. Lowry for a Pardon—Billy Edwards Will Not Meet His Old Antagonist Sam Collyer—Racing at Elizabeth and New Orleans—General Sporting News.

THIS country has more than enough of middle-weight pugilists. The class most needed at present are heavy-light weights. According to the following letter to Frank Stevenson, we are to have still another middle-weight of considerable prominence from accross the Atlantic:

FRIEND FRANK—Received your letter. Will be back home in a couple of weeks. I expect to bring Jack Hickey along with me. He is a very clever boxer and the Irish champion middle-weight. I boxed here with him, and will box him in Brooklyn on my return. He has beaten Toff Wall, Bill Goode and all England's middle weights. They are all afraid of him. I will let you know when I start for home. Wannop would not fight me. Yours truly.

Dublin, Dec. 4. JACK FALLON.

"Why did Jack Fallon leave the Peter Jackson Boxing Combination?" asked the Sun man of Mr. Stevenson.

"Well, you see, Parson Davies wanted Fallon to box in the show and fight all comers for his salary only. Jack was willing," answered Stevenson, "but he wanted extra money for each fight, and so they parted. This is Fallon's side of the story in a former letter to me."

Kilrain's Petition.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

VICKSBURG, Miss., Dec. 20.—Jake Kilrain arrived yesterday morning from New Orleans on his way to Jackson to see Gov. Lowry and ask for remission of the two months' imprisonment to which he was lately sentenced by the Circuit Court of Marion County. He received an ovation here. A petition signed by a large number of the best citizens was got up in favor of the remission asked for, and, in fact, every hospitality was shown him, his quiet, modest demeanor having conciliated every one. It is generally felt that the outraged dignity of the State has been sufficiently vindicated and few were unwilling to sign the petition.

Kilrain and Vaquelin.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 20.—Nothing has yet been decided on the proposed match between Kilrain and Vaquelin, the local pugilist. The latter's friends have changed their programme and now want Kilrain to knock their man out in four rounds, the winner to have 65 per cent and the loser 35 per cent of the gate receipts.

Kilrain's friends insist that $1,000 shall be put up on either side, the fight to be to a finish and the winner to take all the receipts. Kilrain seems to be giving the matter little concern. He spent the day on a sugar plantation watching the process of sugar making.

Edwards Will Not Meet Collyer.

Billy Edwards was standing in one of his picturesque poses surrounded by the classic statuary in the artistic cafe of the Hoffman House last evening when a Sun man approached and asked him what he had to say in reference to the challenge of his old opponent, Sam Collyer, printed in the Sun the other morning. "Collyer must be losing his memory," said the retired light-weight champion, with considerable vigor. "Why, I have whipped him five times. First with the gloves in '66 or '67 in three rounds, when he was matched to fight Johnny McGlade. In '68 I beat him on Coone River, in a ring battle lasting one hour and fourteen minutes, of some forty-five rounds. The third time I defeated him on Mystic Island, Conn., in forty rounds, lasting about forty-five minutes. On this occasion Collyer weighed eight pounds more than I did. In the Center street affair I whipped him in three rounds right in my barroom. Our next mill was at Smith Ferry, Va., where I was again victorious. He also paid me a forfeit of $500, and afterward sued for it in the courts. Will I meet Colyer again? No, sir. I am out of the business. There is no money or glory in it for me at present. I am doing well enough, and it would not pay me to train. I can go down on Wall street and win or lose as much money as a match would bring me. If I get very hard up I may take to boxing again, but not till then."

AMERICANS ARE KICKERS.

The Mince Pies Served to a Thanksgiving Party in London.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—The thoroughbred New York reporter who visits European centers is very apt to make observations of general as well as special interest. Here is a representative of one of the class writing of recent impressions of Paris:

"We celebrated Thanksgiving Day here yesterday. McGinty and I gave an American Thanksgiving dinner at our rooms. After great worriment of mind and matter we found a place where they could make American mince pies, and having ordered two, we crowed over all Americans who knew not where to get one. The turkey was all right. The wine was all right, but all through the dinner McGinty kept hinting that the great hit of the day was yet to come. He had ordered the pies. Finally they came and were placed before me as I sat at the head of the table. One glance at them filled me with distrust. They were made in soup plates. I cut into one amid deep and solemn silence. I gave the first piece to a Californian. He was a polite and modest person, so he made no comments. The second piece I gave to a gentleman from Massachusetts. He remarked that there was enough mince meat in his piece to supply a New England family for a week.

"Americans are kickers. Every man at the table kicked against those pies because the mincemeat was 2½ inches thick and because it was not mincemeat. I requested them, as a particular favor, to think of home and eat their several portions. They did so. To-day they are wrecks. Being built on the ostrich plan, I have not suffered, but I intend to 'write down' the American-English mince pies."

Granted a Divorce.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 20.—Judge Hall yesterday granted a divorce to Dr. Arthur Ruickholdt, a prominent physician of this city. Dr. Wm. J. Sullivan, a graduate of the Yale Medical School last year, was the co-respondent. The decree was granted on the strength of Mrs. Ruickholdt's confession, made while she was at the point of death in December, 1888. Her lawyers contend that as the confession was not voluntary or corroborative it was inadmissible, and will appeal to the Supreme Court.

THE PITTSBURG SCHOOL WAR.

Two Lively Meetings, at Which There Was Considerable Excitement.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Dec. 20.—Under the auspices of the National Reform Association, two largely attended mass-meetings were held here Wednesday afternoon and evening to protest against Roman Catholic interference with public schools. The demonstration, it was stated, was brought about by the utterances of the recent Catholic Congress and the inroads which parochial schools in Pittsburg are making upon the attendance at the public schools. At the afternoon meeting the Rev. L. N. Haynes, D. D., a Presbyterian clergyman, and Miss M. W. Cusack, the "nun of Kenmare," were the speakers. Dr. Haynes denounced the Roman Church for what he called its efforts to throttle the public school system and declared that all the public asked was that no sect be allowed to interfere. Miss Cusack followed with an attack upon the Jesuits, and said that if Protestants wanted to turn this country over to infidelity they should place Jesuits in control. She averred that to become a Jesuit a man must vote as his superior dictates. Miss Cusack declared that there never was a safe country where Jesuits were in control. She alleged that they were doing their hardest work in America, and in New York had gotten Mayor Hewitt out and put their special favorite in power. At the evening meeting there were many Catholics in the hall, and when Miss Cusack came forward she was vigorously hissed. When she expressed her willingness to answer questions there was a wild scene of disorder. A score of persons, among them students of the Holy Ghost College, arose to their feet at once and shouted all sorts of questions at her. Finally quiet was restored and she continued to discuss what she termed the "godless Catholic schools." Harvey Henderson, a well-known attorney, and the Rev. David McAllister, D. D., a leading Reformed Presbyterian minister, also made addresses. Both argued against the proposition made by Catholics that they be given a proportionate share of public taxes for the support of parochial schools.

The meeting passed a series of resolutions protesting against any concessions to Catholics by the public school authorities, and against appropriation of any money "to schools which advocated principles in opposition to the ideas of American Government."

Four Years on Crutches.

For fifteen years I was afflicted with rheumatism, four years of which I was compelled to go on crutches. Words are inadequate to express the suffering I endured during that time. During these fifteen years of existence (it was not living), I tried every known remedy without receiving any benefit. I finally began on Swift's Specific (S. S. MONEY.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20, 11 a. m.—The stock market was very quiet this morning, except for Pacific, Sugar Refineries, Kansas & Texas and the coal stocks, and although the opening prices were generally slight fractional higher than yesterday's closing figures there was a drooping tendency in the early dealings. The fluctuations were entirely without signification except in Sugar, which developed decided weakness, dropping 1¼ per cent, although it opened ⅛c higher, at 55⅜. Late in the hour Canada Southern and Consolidated Gas became active and strong, the former rising 1⅜ to 67⅜ and the tone of the dealings changed for the better, the drooping tendency disappearing through the changes in quotations were still confined to the same insignificent fractions. At 11 o'clock the market was more active and strong though generally at about opening prices.

Noon—Money is easy at 6 per cent. Bar silver 95⅜. The stock market remained quiet after 11 o'clock for some time, but the firm tone continued and prices slowly advanced, later in the hour, however, a decided strong tone was developed, accompanied by a marked increase in activity, and Missouri Pacific, Oregon Short Line, Burlington & Quincy and some others became prominent in the upward movement. Missouri Pacific moved up from 72 to 73⅜, the others in proportion, and the market closed active and strong at the best prices of the morning.

3 p. m.—The stock market closed quiet and heavy but generally at fractional first hour prices.

Commercial Notes.

Now they are counting on a decrease in the next visible of wheat.

"This is nothing but a holiday market and good only for scalping," said Harry Slaughter. "Take your scalping profits and be satisfied."

New Orleans cleared yesterday for Liverpool 21,451 bu corn.

"I bought a little wheat this morning, yet something told me at the time this break was coming," said J. C. Ewald. "Still, I believe purchases ½c above 82⅜c will not lose money."

From three Atlantic ports 47,000 bbls and 58,300 sks flour and 75,000 bu wheat were to-day cleared for export.

"I would not sell wheat," said Fred Paff. "Exports are good and we can't expect receipts to increase at this season of the year."

The Chicago Board of Trade cable was reported firm and ⅛c higher for wheat.

"I am mixed," said C. G. Bowman, "but am inclined to believe wheat will sell some higher."

About 200,000 bu corn was delivered on December contracts this forenoon, and there was some lively scrambling by the longs to get away from it. No one appeared particularly anxious for the corn.

"It looks to me," said Frank Woodlock, "as though there was a big lot of wheat for sale in Chicago this morning. They were temporarily cleaned out the market, but I am looking for a good advance."

The heaviest seller of wheat in the home market at the early advance was the holder of the stock of No. 2 red, he filled every buyer up and seemed to have a world of wheat for sale.

"I don't look for much of an advance in wheat until after the holidays," said D. P. Grier. "There is not enough speculation and prices are not liable to fluctuate more than ½c either way."

New York to Green: "English cables wheat firm, not much business passing; Continental, better tone. Corn steady." To Francis: "London wheat 3d higher and rather better feeling. Liverpool wheat 2d higher asked, but buyers reserved for white wheat. Hard winter red 1d higher, with moderate Liverpool wheat closes quiet. Cables to shippers come stronger. Hard spring and ungraded red wheat wanted, but limits not up to the advance here. Corn firmer in fair demand." To Small: "Liverpool wheat firm and tone improving; floating cargoes advanced." To Cobb: "London wheat firm, with better demand; corn dull."

"I am bearish on wheat," said Joe Davidson. "I don't believe there's any bull in the market and they can't get it up a cent."

Minneapolis was reported as ½c lower on wheat this forenoon.

St. Louis is the highest market for spot wheat in the country to-day, and as the grading here is high the country would do well to send their consignments here.

The San Francisco "Grocer and County Merchant" states that the recent heavy rain storms in California will work incalculable benefit to the State in the long run, especially in the San Joaquin Valley and other sections where the rainfall is usually light. Already the precipitation is nearly to the entire average for the entire cereal year, and the prospect good for twice that quantity before the end of the season.

The Southwestern Railway Co. of Russia forwards annually to the Minister of Ways an estimate of the amount of grain to be transported during the cereal year, and the figures given this year and last are as follows:

	Tons.
Transported in 1888-1889	2,257,313
Estimate for 1889-1890	1,110,085

The above figures indicate the paucity of the cereal crop of Russia this year.

St. Louis Markets.

REGULAR SESSION, CLOSING 1:15 P. M.

Wheat once more opened strong, May selling 1⅜c higher at 82⅜c. There was nothing like the matter with our receipts, which were in the near neighborhood of 50,000 bu, but at the three principal spring wheat markets only 304 cars were received, and this had the usual weary effect upon the shorts. Strong cables, too, came in to add to the effect of the light Northwestern receipts, and every other market in this country opened up better. There was also talk of a decrease in the coming visible supply report. However, fast as it was, the early burst of speed was not maintained and prices began to sag, culminating in a wild rush to sell when Chicago broke to 82c, that carried May in the home market to 81⅞@82c. It recovered when the seaboard clearances were posted, those for wheat and flour being equivalent to over 500,000 bu. And on this there was a rally to 82¼@82⅜c, but the latter part of the session saw an extremely weak spell, upon which there was a drop to 81⅜c, though at close there were buyers at 81⅝@82c. Spot No. 2 red declined ½c to 77¼c for regular and was only salable to shorts, but No. 3 red was higher and in milling demand at 73¼c in D., St. L. and C., and that bid for E. side. No. 4 sold at 65⅜c in T., and 64c E. side. Rejected offered regular at 46c, bid 45c and for U. 46c bid.

Corn was sick. There was any quantity for sale, any one opening their mouths, whether for five, fifty or 100,000, being at once accommodated if they did the market. Heavy receipts, a decreasing demand and increasing deliveries on contract proved too much for the market, and prices broke ½@¾c. December sold at 27c to 26½c. January at 27c to 26⅝@¾c. February at 27¼c to 27@¼c. March at 27⅝@¾c and May at 29⅜c to 29c. They all closed weak, the bottom except May for which 29½@ was bid. May No. 2 white sold at 30⅜c. Spot grades declined and were extremely weak, though the demand was still active, but it was not of the sort that helps out a market. No. 2 sold at 26⅞@26¾c, but the principal buying was by shorts, the other grades selling for ½@¾c and to local buyers. No. 2 red white at 27@27¼c East and 26½c this side; No. 3 white at 26½@26¾c East and 27@26¾c this side; No. 2 at 24½c this and 24⅝@24½c East side; No. 4 at 22½c this and East side. No. 3 yellow offered this side at 25c and that bid E. side.

Oats fell back and displayed weakness for the future deliveries, affected by corn and advices from outside markets that emboldened sellers. May sold at 22⅜c and that was asked at close. Spot grades firm and wanted for shipment, but not much offered for sale. No. 2 sold regular at 19⅝c and No. 3 at 19½c, while for latter E. side 19¾c was bid. No grade salable at 17½c.

Rye firmly held off of market and bids of 42c for No. 2 and 40½c too low to be considered.

Flour firm and demand gradually improving. We quote: XXX, $2.10@2.25; family, $2.40@2.45; choice, $2.60@2.75; fancy $3.25@3.35, extra fancy, $3.70@3.80; patents, $4.10@4.20; Prices for lots delivered and on cars here this side.

Cornmeal at $1.60@1.65, and pearl meal, grits and hominy at $2.30@2.40.

Rye flour steady at $2.85@2.90 del.

Buckwheat flour—Pure Eastern jobs from store at 2¼@2½c per lb.

Bran firm. Bulk at E. side points, 35½; sacked, 42c at E. side points, 45c at city mills, 46½c f. o. b. track this side.

Hay—Offerings moderate, but supply exceeding the demand, and market dull and dragging. Local feeders were the only buyers, and they purchased only in a small way. Prices range: Prairie, prime, $8; choice to fancy, $8.25@8.50; timothy, prime to strictly prime, $9@10; choice to strictly choice, $11@12; fancy, $12.50@13; silt edge, $13.50.

Provisions were quiet and weak. There was only a moderate spot business and a few lots up country sold. Yesterday afternoon 15-day 55-lb c'ribs sold to arrive at 4.65c c. and f. here, and to-day young shoulders at 3.55c, and 10@15-day and 25@30-day shorts at the round c. and f. here. A sale of 100 bbls January pork was made at $9.65. Green hams unchanged at 7c for run of the house from the block, but a firmer market is expected with colder weather. Loose dry salt 25 to 30-day sold f. o. b. for cash: shoulders, 4c; longs and c'ribs, 4.55c; shorts, 5.05c; boxed shoulders, 15 to 30-day, 3.90@4c; longs and c'ribs, 4½@5c; shorts, 5@5.10c. Packed bacon—Shoulders, 4¾c; longs, 5¾c; c'ribs, 5.80@5¾c; shorts, 6c; loose shorts, 5¾c. Hard side at $9.75, and standard mess pork at $9.87½@10. Prime steam lard offered at 5½@c, and 5¾c bid this side; fancy leaf, 7c; second brand, 6¾c. Sugar-cured hams, 9½@12½c. Breakfast bacon, 8@9c. Beef—Family, $6.50@10 ₰ bbl; on orders higher, $4@3.50 ₰ ½-bbl; dried, 9@10c; selected, 11c ₰ lb; tongues, $4@5 ₰ doz. Salt—Domestic, 85@90c ₰ bbl on E.; 90@95c on this side. Ground alum, $1.10@1.15 ₰ 1-lb sack; small way higher.

Highwines unchanged at $1.02 in St. Louis, Cincinnati and Chicago, $1.03 in Peoria.

Lead firm, but quiet. Soft Missouri was offered at $3.60, but chemical worth $3.62½, and desilverized $3.65.

Afternoon Curb.

Wheat—May, 81⅞ to 82c; puts, 81⅞c and calls, 82½c. Chicago—May, 82⅜c.

Chicago Market Letter.

Special Wire to J. C. Ewald.

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—Wheat was fairly active, but trading chiefly local. Scalpers were generally long yesterday and increased their lines on to-day's opening, influenced by the large clearances of flour from the seaboard and expecting them to bring outside orders, which would take their wheat from them on the advance. The usual result followed. The speculation failed to materialize, and the long wheat was sold to the shorts on the break. In brief, our own market partakes too much of a local scalping character to admit of a sustained advance, and until speculation comes even large export clearances will not help the bulls. Receipts all around were again small, but have lost their effect on prices. The local flour trade was reported dull and the large flour clearances were said to belong to old business.

The tendency of corn is downward, particularly for May, which has been the weakest option to-day. Reports of the high quality of the new crop, a prospect of an immense movement in the near future and the cheapness of St. Louis are having their effect here. We regard May corn a sale on any showing of strength.

Provisions are easier and very dull.

Leaf Tobacco.

At the Planters' Warehouse 39 hhds and 1 box were on the break. The bids were as follows: 1 hhd Missouri common bright wrapper at $4; 2 hhds do burley leaf at $4.80 and $10; 5 old style leaf at $2.65, $3, $4, $5, $2; 1 hhd do leaf and lug mixed at $1.10; 1 hhd do lug at $1.35; 2 hhds Kentucky burley leaf at $5.50, $4.85; 1 hhd dark leaf at $1.25; 1 hhd redried smoker at $2.50; 6 hhds Virginia bright scrap at $5.50, $2.50, $1.25, $2, $1.50, $4.50; 1 box old style leaf at $2.50; 19 hhds passed comprising burley and dark leaf and old style leaf and lugs. The market was dull and inactive.

There is nothing new to report concerning the tobacco market. The feeling is dull and dragging. No demand for anything, attributable to the close of the year. At Evans Bros.' warehouse, 34 hhds were on sale and bid off as follows: 14 old-style redried, passed—8 at $9 to $6.25; 1 common dark lug at $1; 3 old burley leaf at $5 to $6; 2 new burley at $2.05 for lug and $5 for leaf; 2 common dark scraps at 25c, and 1 at $2.35; 1 bright smoker at $5; 2 new wrappers at 7c and 18c.

Lempke of Rio cables estimating the present Rio and Santos crops at 3,500,000 and the growing crops at 5,000,000, and says exchange is advancing.

MR. PIKE'S PLIGHT.

An Enthusiastic Yale Man in Trouble for Spreeing With a Bear.

Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 20.—The Yale faculty held a meeting yesterday afternoon and gave especial consideration to a little affair in which Eugene R. Pike of Chicago, a member of the senior class, figured. Pike was charged with acting unbecomingly to himself and in a manner which brought disgrace upon the college. In the evening of the day the Yale foot-ball team defeated Harvard, Pike was boiling over with enthusiasm, as were hundreds of Yale men. He, with others, purchased a bear at the Hotel Yale, filled it with champagne and other fancy drinks and exhibited it on the streets and the public square. President Dwight and the faculty were perturbed over the newspaper reports of the affair, and the professors were instructed to obtain the name of the leader of the gang. Pike was singled out. He has been summoned before the faculty twice, but his case has not as yet been disposed of. They will give him another hearing after the Christmas holidays. Pike is a "high standing" man and very popular. His good scholarship may save him suspension if not expulsion.

GROWING AT A RAPID RATE.

The Defalcation of Mr. Schattenberg, the Milwaukee Suicide.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Dec. 20.—The defalcation of the suicide, Schattenberg, late Secretary of the School Board, is growing at a rapid rate. The amount has now reached $40,000, with a strong probability of going higher. A hasty examination of the dead Secretary's books, totals being dealt with instead of details, discloses the fact that in raised orders alone he realized over $32,000, while the tuition fee stubs show an $8,000 deficit in round numbers. General surprise is being expressed by citizens at the lax methods of the board which made such stealing possible. An interesting question is presented for the present; one or two ex-city treasurers, it is said, are liable to the people for the amounts overpaid on the raised orders. This would necessitate a payment by ex-Treasurer Maywormn of $28,000, while Treasurer Geilfuss and ex-Treasurer Hilbert are let in for about $2,000 each.

All the wants of the passengers will be included in the round trip rate, and they will have nothing to do but enjoy the trip. For further particulars call on or address S. W. Elliott, 102 North Fourth street, St. Louis, or J. J. Grafton, Manager, 199 Clark street, Chicago.

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES.

CITIZENS TO MEET TO-NIGHT TO ARRANGE A RECEPTION TO ARCHBISHOP RYAN.

A Queer Case Which Is Being Considerably Discussed in Episcopal Circles—Sunday-School Christmas Programmes—The Hebrew Feast of the Chanukah—Rev. F. T. Ingalls' Lecture at the First Congregational Church.

HIS evening a meeting of citizens will be held in St. John's Library Hall on Sixteenth and Chestnut streets for the purpose of making preliminary arrangements to tender Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia a fitting reception on the occasion of his visit here, January 12. The Archbishop comes to St. Louis by solicitation to deliver a lecture at Music Hall. The subject of his lecture will be: "Christianity the Source and the Preserver of Our Civilization." In the circulars which Vicar-General Brady sent out to a great number of gentlemen inviting them to the meeting of this evening, he urges upon them to attend and by united effort to plan a demonstration worthy of the greatest Catholic orator in America and creditable to the city where he so long resided. The lecture is given for the benefit of St. John's Church, of which Archbishop Ryan was so long in charge. The church is in debt and the proceeds of the lecture will be used to take up a part of its obligations. General admission to the lecture will be 50 cents and reserved seats $1. As this is the first lecture which the great preacher has given here since he left the city five years ago, it is not anticipated that there will be any difficulty in filling the hall. A fact which will probably heighten the interest in the lecture is the belief in Catholic circles that the reverend Archbishop is soon to be appointed as America's second Cardinal.

A Queer Case.

There is a queer case just now stirring the hearts of the priests of the Church of England, says the St. Louis Parish Record. A Mrs. Swayne, one of the parishioners of the Parish of Hoo (the Rev. Mr. Benson, vicar), had deliberately joined the Methodists and received their communion. She afterwards came to the parish church and demanded the right to be permitted to receive the sacrament from the rector, notwithstanding the canon which explicitly forbids the communication of any such person. Mrs. Swayne brought suit against Mr. Benson before the civil courts to make the rector receive her at the rail. Mr. Benson referred the matter to his bishop, the Bishop of Rochester, whom some of our parishioners will remember to have seen in the Church of the Holy Communion, with Bishop Robertson. Bishop Thoroid, to the surprise of churchmen, turned the case over to Lord Penzance, who is the judge of a court created by Parliament to supplant the Court of Arches, the Spiritual Court of the Province of Canterbury. Of course Mr. Benson took no notice of the decree of any such tribunal, and is now likely to be imprisoned for refusing to permit a lay judge to direct the manner in which he shall perform priestly duties.

The Ladies of the Sacred Heart are looking for a location in the western part of the city to establish a branch academy.

A Christmas fair for the benefit of St. Ann's Asylum, corner of Tenth and O'Fallon streets, is now in progress in the parlors of that institution.

The Chanukah Festival of the Hebrew Free School will take place next Sunday afternoon at their rooms, corner Market and Broadway, at 2 p. m.

Rev. J. B. Emig, S. J., long connected with the Jesuit College and St. Xavier's Church, died recently at the Mission of the Sacred Heart, Conewago, Pa.

The Jefferson Avenue Mission Sunday-school will celebrate Christmas on Friday evening. There will be a Christmas tree, Christmas music and a gift for each child.

Revival meetings are in progress all over the State. At Carrollton the Baptists, North and South Methodists, Christians and Presbyterians are all conducting meetings, and each church is crowded nightly.

The members of the B'nai El Congregation will attend a quarterly meeting next Sunday, at 1:30 p. m. After the meeting they will repair in a body to the children's Chanukah festival at the Concordia Club Hall.

The B'nai El Sabbath-school have a grand programme for their Chanukah Festival next Sunday afternoon at the Concordia Club Hall, commencing at 3 p. m.

The annual Christmas celebration of the Sunday-school of the Holy Communion Church will take place in the evening of Holy Innocents' Day, December 28.

Dr. Rhodes of St. Mark's Lutheran Church will preach in the morning on "Hearing Preaching." In the evening his subject will be "The Unspeakable Gift."

Col. Sobieski, who is soon to visit this city and conduct a gospel temperance meeting for the Good Templars, is regarded as the ablest lecturer in that order. He is now a Missourian, having resided in Neosho several years.

At the Church of the Redeemer Rev. George S. Ricker will speak in the morning on "Suggested Changes in the Order of Morning Worship." In the evening there will be a service of song with short sermon by the pastor appropriate to the Christmas season.

The midnight choral service at Trinity Episcopal Church on Christmas Eve will be especially fine this year, as Prof. Stroud's well trained choir will be augmented by the following notable singers: Alto, Mr. Harry Walker; tenors, Messrs. E. Mosby, F. O. May, Prof. Allman; bassos, Messrs. Henry Groffman, F. Hawken.

The consent of the general convention having been given to the division of the Diocese of Missouri all that remains to do to complete the separation is for the convention of the new or Western Diocese to meet. This has been called for June 3, 1890, in Kansas City. Bishop Tuttle has elected the diocese of which St. Louis forms a part.

The Board of Trustees of the Associated Charity Workers met yesterday afternoon at the office on Chestnut street. It was decided to hold monthly meetings at which a paper pertaining to some branch of the work is to be read by one of its members and its contents discussed. During the holidays the office hours will be from 9 a. m. to 12 m.

Ben Deering has been in North Missouri this week holding temperance meetings. He is soon to go to Michigan City and other points in Indiana to conduct evangelistic meetings. His sermons at Centenary Church last Sunday have aroused such an interest in his preaching that strong efforts are being made to induce him to hold a revival meeting in this city.

Liberty Evangelical Mission, 719 Franklin avenue, had 1,555 men, women and children in attendance at the gospel services during the past week, nineteen of whom professed faith in a personal Savior. One hundred and sixty-nine destitute persons received a substantial meal and 126 received a night's lodging in the Mission dormitory.

Rev. Wm. Johnson will preach at Central Church, Eleventh and Locust streets Sunday morning and evening. His subject at 7:45 p. m. will be "How Much Do I Owe?" Young people's meeting at 7 p. m. The revival meetings which have been in progress nearly a month will come to a close to-night. There have been a number of conversions.

At the Glasgow Avenue Presbyterian Church Rev. A. N. Thompson, pastor, will preach Sunday morning on "The Work of the Holy Spirit." In the evening he will deliver another of the series of illustrated lectures, the subject being "Buddhism, the Light of Asia." These lectures are proving very attractive, the room being well filled every Sabbath evening. All are welcome.

The ladies of the Jefferson Avenue Mission Sunday-school of the Third Baptist Church served lunch and had for sale useful articles suitable for Christmas presents, toys, etc., at the Emanuel Church, 2235 Washington avenue, corner Twenty-third street, yesterday and to-day. The money raised will be used for buying a lot for the Sunday-school, now held in Euterpe Hall.

At the First Congregational Church Rev. F. T. Ingalls, D. D., President of Drury College, will preach morning and evening, Sunday. Dr. Ingalls is here as the guest of the New England Society, and will respond to the toast, "The Yankee Schoolmaster in the Southwest." The Sunday-school will have their Christmas entertainment Thursday evening, December 26.

At the Third Baptist Church the Sunday-school will celebrate Christmas on Wednesday evening. Christmas music will be sung under the direction of Mr. A. W. Payne. The main feature of the celebration will be the bringing of donations for the poor. After the exercises Mr. W. M. Senter, the Superintendent of the school, will march all the little ones into the dining-room, where they will be regaled with a feast.

A prominent Southern Methodist in Kansas City was asked yesterday by a St. Louis Methodist: "Do the Methodists of Kansas City expect to get Dr. Matthews next year?" to which he replied, "No, they do not. They have no hope of getting him. He is likely to stay in St. Louis." It is now generally accepted at the Centenary and St. John's Methodist Churches that the popular Centenary pastor will succeed Dr. Messick at St. John's Church.

Bishop E. R. Hendrix returned this week from Arkansas, where he held the Little Rock Conference of the M. E. Church, South. He transferred Rev. Wilbur Wilson from Farmington, Mo., to Helena, Ark., much against the will of the Farmington people. Rev. M. B. Chapman of Hannibal was transferred from Park Church in that city to the First Methodist Church in Little Rock. Dr. A. B. Miller, another Missouri preacher, lately of St. Joe, was transferred to Memphis. All of these preachers are to be succeeded in Missouri by North Carolina preachers.

Full Christmas services will be held at the First Presbyterian Church, Forty-first and Washington avenue, Sunday, both morning and evening. The pastor will preach appropriate discourses. In the morning his theme will be "The Sword and Peace." In the evening, "The Shepherds Who Heard." The following is the musical programme: The musical selections for the morning service, besides the usual Psalms and hymns, are as follows: "Christians, Awake," Warren; "There were Shepherds," Buck; "The Angels' Song," Warren; "Nazareth," Gounod; "O Holy Night," Adam; "The Babe of Bethehem," Warren. The selections for the evening service, besides the usual Psalms and hymns, are as follows: "And there were Shepherds," Warren; "Sing, O Heavens," Tours; "It came upon the midnight clear," Holbrook; "He shall feed his flock," Handel; "Hark, hark, my soul," Shelly.

At St. Vincent's Church on Ninth and Barry streets preparations for Christmas have already begun. The floral decorations of this church have been intrusted to the ladies of the Altar Society and will be in keeping with the solemnities of the day. Besides a succession of low masses at certain intervals there will be two solemn high masses, the first of which will take place at 8 o'clock and the second at 8 o'clock. Haydn's second mass will be rendered at both of these services by the united English and German choirs. "O Cor Amoris Victima," Lambillotte, with soprano obligato and chorus, will be the offertory hymn; Millard's Veni Creator Spiritus will be sung before the sermon. During the distribution of the holy communion the choir will render "Adetiate Fideles" and "Sing the Glad Tidings" at the conclusion of both high masses. The following ladies and gentlemen will take part in the rendition of the musical programme: Sopranos, Misses Lilie Phillips, Belle Dowling, Belle Vasquez, Tillie Traudt, Mary Bloemke and Mrs. Neumainville; altos, Misses Louisa Dickson, Lizzie Frye, Rosa Bloemke, Vivie Deffrey and Mrs. Al S. Ludwig; tenors, Dr. Jules Nothhelfer, John Mees, John Meyer and Louis Dowling; bassos, Geo. Menniges, Barney Dierkes and Edward Ludwig.

THE LAKE JOHANNA HORROR.

Strong Verdict of the Coroner's Jury Censuring Public Officials.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Dec. 20.—The jury which was impaneled Wednesday by Coroner Quinn to investigate the Lake Johanna horror, brought in a verdict last night which has caused a sensation. Contrary to the customs and traditions of coroners' juries, this one has not overlooked anything or anybody in pursuing its investigation or in its verdict. Every detail of the shocking mutilation of the body found buried on the shores of Lake Johanna in a whisky barrel labeled a "traitor," is now known. In its verdict the jury strongly charges City Health Commissioner H. F. Hoyt and his son, Mark Hoyt; Dr. J. H. Murphy, the most prominent physician in St. Paul; Bert Austin, son of ex-Gov. Austin, and Geo. Lynch, an electrician, with flagrant violation of the State law, and the laws of human decency. The statutes bearing on the subject of dissection are alleged to be defective, and the enactment of more stringent measures is urged. Everybody connected with the outrage, from the St. Paul & Duluth Railway Co. which neglected to give the body decent burial, it being that of one of its employes killed while on duty, to the driver of the cart which conveyed the barrel-coffin and its contents to Lake Johanna, is strongly censured, and the verdict is conceded to be the most sweeping ever returned by a jury in this State. The case will be brought to the attention of the Grand jury, and strong effort made to secure the indictment of those implicated in the crime, which is punishable by five years imprisonment, or a fine of $1,000, or both.

POLITICS RUINED HIM.

An Ex-New York Post-Office Official Under Serious Charges.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—It has been discovered that Charles Conley, who was the Assistant Custodian of the Post-office under the Cleveland administration, is short in his accounts, and the case has been put in the hands of the United States District Attorney. Conley, who lives at 265 West Thirty-sixth street, and is a School Trustee and a County Democracy leader in the Fifteenth Assembly District, was removed from his position in June last by Postmaster Van Cott, after having occupied it nearly four years, and when he attempted to make his accounts balance it was found that he was nearly $4,000 short. He confessed, it is said, that he had used the money for his personal expenses, and it appeared that the first of the series of embezzlements were made to enable him to go to the St. Louis Convention when nominated Mr. Cleveland for a second term. A good deal of the rest went in election expenses. When confronted with the evidences of his crime and the possibility of having to serve a term of imprisonment he raised what money he could and paid back about $3,100 to the Postmaster. The balance, about $1,700, is still unpaid, and the Government now threatens to come down on his two sureties, who went on his bond for $10,000.

A Dastardly Assault.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Dec. 20.—Carrie Lovegreen, a young lady about 16 years old, was the victim of a most dastardly assault last night. As she was returning from a neighbor's house near her home and as she was turning around a corner she was struck in the head with a stone and knocked senseless, the assailant fleeing in the darkness. She was carried home and a physician summoned who pronounced the wound serious, if not dangerous.
